Entertain friends in a unique and fun way!

parties, in-home cooking classes, and Interactive Dinner Parties (IDPs), which are a great alternative way to entertain your friends and family!

two persons, and for up to as many as your kitchen can facilitate!

Interactive dinner parties offer in-depth explanation of techniques, in an informal setting allowing participants to ask questions and enjoy the finished dishes.

The IDP can also be scheduled as a luncheon, if you so desire. What a great way to spend the afternoon!

Pricing is very reasonable, and is dependent on the selected menu, and the number of guests.

Interactive Dinner Party!

Chef Ted will help design a delicious gourmet menu, he will bring all the ingredients and utensils, and under the Chef's guidance, you and your guests will actually participate in the preparation of the entire meal!
